WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 31, 1900.

FARRINGTON'S FAULTS.

In considering reasons why the voters of Nevada should not vote for E. S. Farrington, we can find about a hundred. Below we give twenty-six, but these may be summed up as four:
Insincerity, instability, inconsistency and incapacity. Here they are:

Farrington and Wallace.

Farrington owes his nomination to C. C. Wallace.

Oscar J. Smith as good as stated in the Republican State convention that he was forced upon that convention by Wallace.

Wallace had him in training for the Silver party nomination two years ago.
Wallace stated that he had him in training to beat Newlands this year.

He was in daily consultation with Wallace for days before and after he received the congressional nomination.

He is in constant communication with Wallace at the present time.

Wallace is at this moment and has for months been touring the State urging his friends to vote for Farrington.

And yet Mr. Farrington denies any connection with C. C. Wallace.

Farrington and Silver.

Farrington left the Republicans and joined the Silver party while the Republican party claimed to be for titanium.

He left the Silver party and rejoined the Republican party after that party had declared for the gold standard.

He voted for Bryan in 1896, when McKinley favored silver to the extent of international bimetallism, but will vote against Bryan in 1900, when Bryan is still for free coinage and McKinley is for the gold standard outright.

He declared that he could not accept the Republican nomination for congress unless the platform favored free coinage, and immediately afterward accepted the nomination upon a platform which endorsed the coinage of ten-cent pieces.

And last, and worst, he was a party to the distribution of gold standard literature at his Tucororo meeting.

And, yet, Mr. Farrington asserts that he is the friend of silver.

Farrington and Congress.

He considers himself fit to go to Congress; yet shows his lack of knowledge, narrowness of view and pettiness of motive by devoting most of his campaign speeches to a personal attack upon his opponent.

He affects to believe that a Congressman's usefulness is measured by the number of times he votes on petty appropriations and pension bills, rather than by the eminence of the position he attains and the influence he exerts by virtue of that position.

He does not consider the presence of corporation lawyers in the Congress of the United States a menace to the welfare of the country and the good of the people.

He believes that the Declaration of Independence is a back number, that the constitution does not follow the flag and that the present policy of friendship for the trusts should be perpetuated.

He says he believes that a country lawyer of mediocre ability will command the same influence in Congress and do as much for a State as can a statesman of national reputation, a member of the Ways and Means committee and a Congressman of eight years standing.

And, yet, Mr. Farrington insists that he is a fit man to represent us in Congress.

Farrington and Labor.

He is a corporation attorney, and naturally a sympathizer with corporations.

He prosecuted with bitterness the
A. R. U. strikers in 1894.

In Congress, as a Republican, he is guaranteed to support a policy which calls for a large standing army to overawe and keep in subjection the laboring man.

He is a member of the party which favors those oppressors of labor and robbers of the poor—the trusts.

And, yet, Mr. Farrington pretends to be the friend of labor.

A LATE WORK ON LOGIC.

The reply of the people of Elmore in New York State to Teddy Roosevelt's trust arguments was more forcible than elegant. The logic used was the logic of events taken from a late American work by the people on logic. The application of which class of logic is usually more personal than general.

the people in the near future that the argument was to personal f. use in American politics. The argument was imported about the time imperialism was landed and New York was the place where the landing was made.

The personal side of the argument was not applied till it was discovered by the people that imperialism was intended for their future use. When it was discovered that the European monster was intended for the American people like arguments are applied in the United States as there are applied in Europe to keep the arrogance of imperialists within the bounds of human conduct. An imperialist on the west side of the Atlantic is no better than an imperialist on the east side and if there can be a distinction in the manner of applying imperialism it is in favor of the manner of applying it on the east side of the ocean. Centuries of oppression in Europe have been a means used by the people to teach imperialists to keep within the lines the people to the present have given imperialistic power, while in the United States it seems to be concluded by the more ignorant who assume imperialistic manners that they can use them as the people have used the principles which are given a leading place in the declaration.

Imperialism has a force back of the argument which is intended to be applied to break the will of the people as their will must be broken before they can be controlled, which force in the logic of events will have its opposite. The opposite has made an appearance at Elmira, according to the late American edition upon logic applied to imperialism labeled, "Old Eggs."

Two shafts are being sunk on the are down about twenty feet, the bottom being in ledge matter carrying small Dunduro, Rossaco and Della Piazza cleaned up about seventeen hundred dollars from a seventy ton run at the Proctor and Slip mills. This ore was extracted in running two drifts from the main tunnel of the Cabin No. 2.

The ore continues in both drifts and is of good quality.

Kearney and Effricks are milling thirty-five tons of fair grade ore from the one hundred foot level of the Renegade mine. A great deal of development work has been done on this mine and the indications are good for a good bullock producer in this mine. The boys have a lease on this mine from Bender and Smith of Reno.

Candidates' Ball.

Last evening the orators took a breathing spell and the candidates were at liberty to attend the dance given in the pavilion by Wilson and Julien. An orchestra of eight pieces furnished excellent music. There was a large attendance and the event passed off very pleasantly.

Thirty-one out of Thirty-three.

Every man in Orlonghouse—excepting two—will vote the fusion ticket.
If a gold camp does this well, how will the silver producing districts in the State vote?

A STRONG TICKET

Place an X After These Names When You Go Into the Booth.

Phil Jacobs is one of the strongest candidates that could have been named by the fusion party for the Assembly. He is young, energetic, popular and capable. His clear, keen business sense, thorough knowledge of parliamentary proceedings and unpurchasable honesty make him the logical candidate. Put an X after his name.

W. W. Webster, business manager of JOURNAL, is one of the fusion nominees for the legislature. He endorses the county, State and national platforms and, if elected, will serve his constituents to the best of his ability.

George E. Peckham is one of the staunchest Bryanites in Washoe county. He is a broad minded man and a deep student of governmental questions. Over the signature

"Farmer," his contributions to literature on the money question, imperialism and trusts have frequently appeared in the JOURNAL. Mr. Peckham will devote all his talents and energy to the interests of this county and State during his term in the Assembly.

A. Revert, more extended mention of whom was made yesterday, is a comparatively unknown man. His habits of life are not such as have brought him prominently before the people, but he is going about the county meeting the voters and, by his earnest manner and straightforward statements, is making friends every day.

Literary Club Discusses China.

On Monday evening the Nevada Literary Society held their regular meeting at the home of Dr. and Mrs. P. T.
Phillips. The subject under discussion was the same as that of last week and, as it has not been exhausted yet, it will be the subject for one or perhaps several weeks to come.

Papers on the various phases of the question such as the religion, superstition, roads, soldiery and literature of China were read by different members and each was generally discussed.

The next meeting will be held at the home of the Misses Jamison on the evening of Monday, November 6th, to which all are cordially invited.

FORTY BONES PER FOOT

A Washoe County Miner Is Well

Paid for Running a Tunnel.

W. H. Jackson, one of the owners of the Jumper mine in Orlonghouse, was in Reno yesterday cashing in the amalgam for the last run of his ore. The mint receipt gives the weight of the dope at 57.11 ounces before melting, for which $924.02 was paid in coin.
The gold was 792 fine, or $16.63 per ounce. This run was made at the Proctor & Allen mill. Twenty two tons were run through.

Mr. Jackson has been working three months, part of the time alone, driving a tunnel to tap the bottom of a 70-foot shaft. He is now in 50 feet and has cleaned up $2013.89, while doing this "dead" work. The waste from the tunnel would mill about $6. The tunnel follows lead from fifteen inches to five feet wide. In the 50 feet that has been run good ore will be taken out, as the bottom of the shaft shows $50 values.

Mr. Jackson will stop up from the tunnel, and calculate to extract $25,- 000. Two shifts will also be put in the shaft, which will be sunk deeper and levels run on the lead. As the ledge is well defined and increases steadily both in width and value, with depth, this will doubtless become within another year one of the greatest gold producers in the county and State.

LITTLE LOCAL BREVITIES

Don't forget the football game next Saturday.

The Varsity football team lost money on Saturday's game.

You can't afford to miss the game against the San Jose Normals.

Friday evening the Sophomore reception will be given at the University.

Messrs. Tom and Jerry have arrived at H. J. Thyes' place of business.
They will remain until spring.

The Sigma Alpha frat had a big eat last night in celebration of the nuptials of their late lamented brother, Jack O'Sullivan.

All the rolling stock of the Nevada-California-Oregon railway is now in use, owing to increased freight and passenger traffic.

Trouble on the Rail.

Train No. 6 got into trouble in the snowshed half a mile west of Emigrant Gap yesterday morning, due to a broken rail. When it pulled into Reno several hours late, it presented a rather disreputable appearance, owing to broken glass, scratched paint and splintered sides.

This was Jim McKenna's first trip after the accident in which he was injured a year ago. He was hurt, but not seriously, in this wreck.

A freight train piled up near Carlin last evening. Traffic was delayed six hours.

Old Enough to Marry.

Rev. Jos. Chiles of San Diego and Mrs. Louise B. Wells of San Jose were married yesterday in this city. Both the contracting parties had arrived at the age of discretion, their combined ages being 120 years.

Funeral Notice.

The funeral of the late John R. Dixon will take place from the family residence on Third street Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Friends and acquaintances are respectfully invited to attend.

THE LOCAL PROSPECTS

What Prospectors and Miners Are Doing in This Vicinity.

Edwards and Norton have three carloads of high grade gold, silver and copper ore on the dump.

The Clark and Currie tunnel in Peavine is in 340 feet. The lead will not be tapped until midwinter.

Three carloads of coke have been shipped to the Reno reduction works.
Affairs will soon be in shape for resuming operations.

A twenty-five foot lead of $10.75 ore has been cut by the Great View tunnel on Peavine. The N. E. and D. Co. is now planning a smelter or concentration plant.

All the mining camps around Reno will be depopulated a couple of days next week. The miners are coming in from the hills to swell the majorities for Bryan, Newlands and Jackson.

A Worthy Cause.

The ladies of the Twentieth Century Club will give a benefit to the Kindergarten fund in the pavilion Friday evening. There will be a literary and musical program, followed by dancing and refreshments.
